

Daniel Michael Crane is enjoying his tenth year as an actor/singer. His most recent film/tv credits include: Timmy in The Reverend feature film (lead), Terrence in The Talk short film (supporting), Guard #2 in Plan B: Sediments of the City web series (principal), and Dino in Mob Diaries series pilot (principal). He is also in pre-production for Run Away to New Jersey (a SAG short which he will appear in a lead role for). On the stage work side of the arts, he is known for his work as Fred in A Christmas Carol: A New Musical (Off-Broadway), Michael in Mirror, Mirror: A Musical in 7 Times (Off-Broadway), Jeff in E-Date: A New Musical (Off-Broadway) Edmond Dantes in The Count of Monte Cristo (Off-Broadway), Lead Singer in America's Hit Parade (Pigeon Forge, TN), and Luke Duke in Hazzard County Hoedown (Pigeon Forge, TN). He also performs in variety shows, recitals, and for benefit functions regularly around NYC and Long Island. Adopted from South America as a baby & currently residing on Long Island's east end with his family, Daniel Michael Crane studied acting at Suffolk County Community College and takes private voice lessons in NYC. Classically trained in voice since he was 19, being trained under coaches with Broadway, National, and International credits, he has been singing professionally for 8 years and is a proud member of Sag-Aftra since 2012.

Daniel's other likes and interests include: Dogs, cats, traveling, coffee, baseball, open mics and karaoke. Daniel wishes to thank his family, friends, coaches and colleagues for the continued support as he continues to chase his dreams. For bookings and more information, please visit his website (www.DanielMichaelCrane.org) & his Fan Page (www.Facebook.com/DanielMichaelCraneFanPage). "There is always someone several steps ahead of you, but you're also several steps ahead of someone else. Lead by example". -dmc-